DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1, 3, 5, 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Cordio in view of Warren and Willis. Cordio shows the general overall arrangement that applicant claims. There is a handle, and an extension, and a detachable razor head. Warren shows the use of a loop handle for a hand supported implement. This offers the advantage of offering the user an easier grip. Obviously one of ordinary skill in the art would want such a handle for the device of Cordio to offer a better grip in the shower or for a person with wet hands. It is noted that Willis has grip fingers for attaching a razor handle to his support handle. The advantage is that it is a rather universal grip. Obviously one of ordinary skill in the art would use such a grip with the Cordio device to accommodate several different razors.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 2, 4, 6-10, 12-13 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
